IMPEACHMENT.

General Belknap's Counsel Decline to Put In Any Other Plea.

SUBSTANTIAL ACQUITTAL CLAIMED

Effect of the Decision on the Jurisdiction Question.

SHARP PASSAGE BETWEEN COUNSEL-AND SENATOR.

The Senate to-day resumed the consideration of the articles of impeachment against W. W. Belknap, late Secretary of War, this being the day fixed under the recent order of the Senate to receive any further answer to the articles of impeachment the respondent Black and Blair, of his counsel, and the managers, on the part of the House of Representatives, being presin the usual form.

ARGUMENT OF JUDGE BLACK. Judge Black referred to the recent order of the Sen-aic, that the defendant should plead further by to-day, and said for certain reasons counsel for the defence de-clined to put in any plea, not because they did not expect to go to trial upon the merits of the case, but because any plea which they might put in under the order would, probably be construed as an admission that the defendant had not already been substantially acquitted. The counsel for the defence expected the Senate to put in the plea of not guity for them and they would, aid the Senate to the utmost of their power to sustain that plea.
Judge Black then argued that the decision of the Senate had already been in favor of the defendant, as the order asserting jurisdiction in the case was not passed by a two-thirds voto. He then read the fol-

Belkmap, and now, to wit, this 16th day of June, 1876, the said William W. Belkmap comes into court and being called upon to plead further to the said articles of impeachment, doth most humbly, and with the profoundest respect, represent and show to this honerable Court that, on the 17th day of April last past, he did plead to the said articles of impeachment, and in his said plea did allege that at the time when his last of Representatives of the United States ordered said impeachment, and at the time when the said articles of impeachment were exhibited at the bar of the Sanata against him, the said Belkmap was and ever thereafter had been, not a public officer of the United States but a private-titizen of the United States and of the State of lowa, and that plea aforesaid and all the matters and things therein contained were by hum, said Belkmap fully verified by proofs—namely, by admissions of the axid House of Represents and shows up headed by him, as aforesaid, were increased and shouse of the respondent and the responsents and shows the court of the said House of Represents and shows the court of the said House of Represents and shows the court of the said House of Represents and shows the court of the said House of Represents and shows the court of the said House of discourt on that behalf in this cause; that afterward—to discourt on that behalf in this cause; that afterward—to sit, on the 20th of the respondent and the court of the members of this court. said pass to the said sufficiency in law, duly affirmed by the said Senate sitting as aff-resaid, more than one-third of the Nenature of said Senate sitting as afforesaid having by their votes so declared—to wit, twenty-seven as aforesaid, and said twenty-seven Senators having by their votes declared and affirmed their opinion to be that said pleas of said respondent was true in fact, and was sufficient in law to prevent the Senate, sitting as aforesaid, from taking further cognitatine of said savers that to bas already been sufficient to said the said respondent, said the said senate and said said savers that he has already been made with the concurrence of two-thirds of the said Senators, sitting as aforesaid, and that he the said respondent, is not found in their concurrence of two-thirds of the said Senators, sitting as aforesaid, and voting upon the question of the passage of said-order, and said order having been passed with the concurrence only of less than two-thirds of the said Senators, sitting as aforesaid and voting on the question of making and passing said order, the said order ought not to have been entered on record as an order of said Court of Imparabment in this cause, and said order having been passed with the concurrence only of less than two-thirds of the said senators, sitting as aforesaid and voting on possed with the concurrence only of less than two-thirds of the said senators, sitting as aforesaid and voting on the whole of the question of making and passing said order, the said order ought not to have been entered on record as an order of said Court to the passage of said-prespondent and votid as an order of said court, and the said respondant preparaling upon the whole record of said cause to be not and and votid as an order of said court, and the said respondant preparaling upon the whole record of said cause to be not an order of said court to where, as he has before formally moved said court, to vacate said order, and the said respondant preparaling upon the whole record of said c

ACTION OF THE COURT. Mr. EDMUNDS objected to the paper being filed.

Mr. Manager Lond also objected, and submitted an order that the respondent W. W. Mr. EDMUNDS said if counsel or managers did not wish to be heard further he would move that the gal-leries be cleared and the doors closed for consultation. Judge Black said counsel for the defence had offered Jugge Black said counsel for the schedule and oldered a paper asserting their legal and constitutional rights. A Scuator objected and also a manager. Was that any reason why the paper should be thrown under the schedule. Mr. Edmunds called the coudsel to order, and said he lid not think the language was proper to be addressed to the Senate.

Judge Black.—Well, if I am out of order what shall I do to get in order again?

The Prassinant pro tem. admonished the counsel that respectful language must be used.

Judge Black resouring) said:—After consultation with his colleagues and his chent they had concluded to put in the paper just read by him, and he submitted that it was not only respectful, but was humble to the last degree.

Mr. Edmunds said he objected to the filing of the paper, not because he desired to reject it, but he desired that it should be held in reserve that the Senate might determine what should be done with it.

Mr. Blank also argued that the counsel intended no disrespect by offering the paper. They simply desired to put on record their views as to the previous action of the Senate.

Mr. Manager Loren armed that the under offered by Manager Loren armed that it was armed that it was nevertally that the counsel for the senate.

to put on record their views as to the provious action of the Senate.

ARGUMENT OF MR. LORR.

Mr. Manager Lord structure that the paper offered by the counsel for the defence was in direct contravention to the recent order of the Senate, which was that the defendant should to day further answer the articles of impeacement, otherwise the trial should proceed as upon a plea of not guilty. The counsel now declined to plead, and asked that his extraordinary paper be bles, for which there was no precedent. He then withdrew the order recently submitted by him but belief of the Board of Managers and moved, as a substitute, an order that William W. Belkinap having made default to plead to the struckes of impeachment, the trial shall proceed as upon a plea of not guilty in pursuance of the former order of the Senate.

Mr. Educade said it had been suggested that no quorum was present. The count developed the fact that but twenty-nine Senators (not a quorum) were in attendance.

EXECUTIONS YESTERDAY

Aleck Lowrey and Bill Lee Pay the Penalty of Murder by Death on the Gallows.

SKETCHES OF THEIR CRIMES.

The Last Act Witnessed by Thousands of Excited People.

WARNINGS FROM THE GATE OF DEATH.

SUMTER, S. C., June 16, 1876. A negro, named William Alexander Lowery, one of the most atrocious murderers of the period, was hanged in this town to-day at half-past twelve o'clock. Long before dawn the roads were alive with plantation o'clock Sheriff Tyndall, in cocked hat and with sword, drove to the jail and took the condemned in his wagon to the place assigned for execution. Arriving there he ascended the rude scaffold and commenced to pray, sing and preach after the manner of a saint and martyr. His self-possession was wonderful; not a nerve or muscle quivered. The rain poured down in torrents, but he sang and preached to the 6,000 spectators, composed almost entirely of his own race. The scene resembled a vast camp meeting more than a execution. All the colored spectators, male and female, sang the hymns in a coloreal spectators, male and female, sang the hymns in a colossal chorus of 5,000 voices. He confessed that he was a murderer, but said he would "see God in a few minutes." When all were soaked with rain he said, "Are you ready, Mr. Sheriff?" He was pinloued, the death warrant read, the black cap drawn over his face, the supports jerked from under the drop, and the young cold-blooded murderer swung into the unknown world.

He left a written confession to be read by the Sheriff in the presence of Messra Hurst, Wiley, Tuomey, Singleton and Smith. He was pronounced dead in twenty minutes, when his body was cut down and handed over to his mother. The confession has been read. He solemnly swears that he is the sole murderer. THE MURDER of the horrors that have lately become of such frequent occurrence in this State, and following closely on the murder of Mr. Reed, of Pomona, in an adjoining county, who was similarly brutally killed and robbed a iew months before. The victim, Mr. John Murphy, was an elderly Irishman, who lived and did business in a store at a small ratiroad town named Lynchburg, in gusta Railroad. He was regarded as a very industrious and sober man, who minded his own business and eschewed politics altogether—so much so that he was never known to vote at an election, which is a rare circumstance in this section. He was, moreover, a fregal bachelor, known to be weathly, and, as there is no bank in the place, he had to keep his money on his premises. He is reputed to have bought his goods for cash and occasionally paid travelling agents in advance for goods ordered. On Wednesday night, March 15, he was seen alive for the last time by Mr. Miller, the railroad agent. About midnight the village was aroused by the alarm of fire, which was discovered to be issuing from the store of Mr. Murphy. The building with its contents were soon burned to the ground, and, what was of more consequence and more shocking to the little community, the body of the proprietor was discovered in the roins partially consumed, the arms and legs were reduced to cinders, while the body was preserved for identification by a quantity of peas and cornfalling on it from a lost in which they had been stored when the timbers gave way. An examination of the head, which escaped cremation in the same manner, revealed the fact that the unfortunate man had been killed by a terrible blow from an axe or other sharp instrument. By his side lay his revolver, with all the barrels empty, either from the heat or from having been discharged in a desperate effort to save his life. His watch was the only article found upon his charred remains. As he was not undressed for bed it is supposed that he was murdered before beditime with the axe, then robbed, and the store set on fire to destroy the evidences of the robbery and murder. Able detectives came from Columbia to work up the case, but the first positive information was given by

who went before a magnitate and informed him that ahe was sorely troubled in mind, as she had reason to believe that her son "Aleck" was concerned in the Lynchburg arson, robbery and murder. Aulong other reasons assigned she stated that he and sober man, who minded his own business and eschewed politics altogether—so much so that he was

The result was that Lowery, Alfred Moses and a desperado named Moses Wilson, now in jail in Darlington county for another murder and robbery, all negroes, were arrested and lodged in the County Jail in this town. Mortly after his incarceration Lowery sent for Trial Justice Hurst and made a contession of the whole scheme to rob and murder Mr. Murphy, but in doing so adroitly endeavored to make his confederates appear as principals and himself an unwilling accessory. The authorities penetrated his motives and disbelieved his confession, and after a careful preliminary examination committed him for trial. He was tried at the May term of the Court of General Sessions, before Judge A. J. Shaw. Lowery had no counset when he was arraigned, but was assigned, by the Court, Messra Joseph E. Earle and John A. Richardson of the Sunter Bar, that full justice might be done. Messra, Morre and Lee were assigned to assist the Solicitor. The prisoner exhauted the panel without success in an effort to draw a full negro jury to try his case, but failed. He did succeed, however, in drawing eleven of the least intelligent of his race, and one white man. A noile prosequi was entered by the State in the case of Wilson and Moses, his confederates, for the purpose of getting their testimony, as it was doubtful if Lowery could be convicted solely on his own confession and the circumstantial evidence. He was prosecuted with vigor and detended with ability, but to no purpose, as the jury found him in the first degree, and the Court sentenced him to be hanged on the 16th day of June. There was no doubt of his guilt, and the good, law-abiding citizens of Sumter, knowing the law would take its course, without executive interference, waited pastently until to-day to see the majesty of that law vindicated. To their credit be it recorded that no suggestion of summary punishment met with favor from any class of the community. One of the p-culiar incidents of the trial was the presence of the mother of the condemned as a witnes who has paid the debt of nature and the penalty of his crime at the same time, as an explation of the horrible crimes of murder, arson and robbery, was a negro of about twenty-one years of age, with a large, well formed body, but a remarkably small, pointed head. The execution took place upon a field a little out of town, where two negroes were hung about two years ago for the nurder of a young man named Wedekind. It is notworthy that all the recent nurders committed in this State have been by negroes, and that avarice is the accursed cause.

THE HANGING OF "BILL" LEE, OQUAWRA, Ill., June 16, 1876.

To-day in this quiet town, on the sandbanks of the Mississippi, "Bill" Lee was sent to meet the soul of his murdered victim, Jessie McCarty. The murder for which Lee was hanged was one of the most brutal that has ever crimsoned the history was the proprietor of a disreputable house that disgraced the Illinois shore, nearly opposite Bur-lington, lowa. The bloody deed was committed in the "Gunboat," as the house was called, on the 6th day of a frail inmate of the house but three days, and on the fatal evening Lee outered her room and became enraged at her for resisting a disgusting proposal, whereupon he swore be would take her life. Knocking the girl down he kicked her and stan ped upon her till she was insensible, then soizing her by one foot he dragged her down the stairs into the kitchen and there, in the presence of several of the inmates, he jumped upon her face several times, crushing her skull with his heavy boots. Lee then dragged his victim out into the yard, where she was seen to broathe several times. It seems that Lee always kept on hand

A CONVENIENT COFFIN it out, but he finally decided not to waste it and com-pelled Dan Brazec, Larry O'Neil and William Perkins river. Jessie having disappeared, one of the girls asked where she was. Lee replied, "She is put where a great many more have been put," When the three men had returned from their dark mission Lee assem-bled all his crew and said, savagely and significantly, "If anybody asks for Jess.e, say that she left fare at two o'clock. If any of you 'cheek' it you will go the same way." Then the fiend sum-moned the musicians and ordered a dance, even while yet the blood of his victim was commenced April 26. The crime was conclusively proven by eight witnesses. Lee offered no defence except his own testimony, his two brothers testifying to his previous good character. The theory of the defence was that the girl had not been seriously injured, but was turned out of the house and has since been living in lows, the body found being that of some unknown person. Of course there was nothing to sustain this remarkably attenuated theory. Lee attempted to bribe witnesses to swear that they had seen Jessie alive and well alter her reported murder, but he was unsuccessful. The case was given to the jury at three o'clock on Friday, April 29, and after deliberating two hours and a quarter they returned to the densely crowded court room, and their verdict of "Guilty" broke painfully upon the deathly silence. The heartless criminal received the verdict without a tremorf and, turning to his occansel, said:—"Well, they've done it."

The trial was largely attended by Vigilantes, an organization for the suppression of crime and the punishment of criminals, who openly declared that if Lee was not found guilty of murder in the first degree, they would hang him themselves within five minutes thereafter. This band burned the "Gunboat" shortly alter the murder.

Lee was about twenty-eight years old, weighed 150

THE LAST SEXEM.

About 5,000 people assembled to witness Lee's execution. One hundred were admitted to the jail yard, but the fence serrounding the gallows was only ten feet high, so those outside could plainly view the fatal scene. Within the past two days Lee gave up all hopes of escape, and sent for a minister and made his peace with his Maker. His favorite song was

Must Jesus bear the cross alone ? His bravery and self-possession left him entirely when led out upon the scaffold, and he trembled like an aspen led out upon the scaffold, and he trembled like an aspen leat.

Lee's remarks were:—"'t oung men, you see me before you in the prime of life, and I hope you will be warned in time. When drinking remember me, and prepare to meet me high up in heaven by the dazzling throne. God knows there was no murder in my heart. Whiskey and women brought me here—not good women, but prostitutes. Let my fate be warning to all young people." As the rope was placed around his neck tears roiled down his cheeks, and he said, "Remember, young man."

The culprit was so affected while speaking that he had to be supported. As the black cap was slipped over his face, shutting out the earth forever, his inst words were, "Farewell; meet me in heaven."

Rev. Mr. Taylor then prayed, and as "Amen" was uttered the Sheriff dropped a weight of 370 pounds, and Lee bounded five and a half feet into the air, at thirty-six minutes past two, and his neck was broken. At ten minutes to three life was extinct, and at four minutes after three the body was cut down and delivered to his brothers, Lewis and Dr. J. H. Lee, who will convey it to Fairfield, lowa, for burial. He leit a history of his life and confession, which is still sealed and will be published by his brother.

MARITIME MISCELLANY.

SHIP BELVEDKEE, Kirby, from Independencia Bay, with guano, for Hampson Roads (before reported), experienced a fearful gale from west, April 39, in lat 49 27 S., lon 85 W. The ship was acpt before it, but it got so bad that the captain was obliged to heave her to, when she sprang a leak in the upper works, in consequence of which large quantities of water got below on the guano rendering the vessel almost unmanageable, and had to bear up for Valparaiso to buil the water. She wend probably discharge for respairs.

Nay 20.

SHIP KDWARD O'BHIEN. Smalley, from Callae for Liverpool, before reported as having put into Valparaiso leaky, had discharged about 1200 tons of cargo May 17.

BARK Exitio BARARINO (of Liverpool), Thompson, from Londonderry May 18 for Lewes, Del, was stranded off Sydney, CB, hight of June 15 in a fog. She is full of water, The Emilio Barabine had been in collision on the 13th with schr Walter M Pault, of Gloncester, carrying raws, the latter's mainmast and sails. She would go into North Sydney, CB, for repairs.

Schul Janky—Fears are entertained for the safety of schr Janet (flaberman), of Gloncester, which has been acasut 14 weeks; no tidings have been received from her since leaving port. The crew consisted of 12 men.

Schul M A lixura, from Port Antonio for New York, put into Charleston June 16 leaking and with loss of sails.

The report of damage to the cargo of bark WA Farns-worth, Hanson, on her outward passage from New York to Zauribar, is said to be erroncous.

HALIFAX, June 16—The bark Gienroe, of Pictou, is a total wreck at St Paul's Island. The crew have been saved. The ressel was insured for $26,000. PORTLAND, Me. June 15.—The steamer Falmous arrived here yesterday from Halifax, had on crew of the wrecked ship Iron-idea, of New York, ported wrecked as Sable Island.

QUESEC, June 16.—There are 250 sea-going vessels in this cort. The freight market during the past week has been more buoyaut and a slight advance in ratch obtained.

NOTICE TO MARINERS.

A survey recently made of the Hedge Fence in Vineyard Sound shows that this shoul, since August, 1851, has extended SE by E½E about 7-10 of a nautical mile. No change was found on the western parts.

To evoid this dangerous shoul when the buoys upon it cannot be seen vessels bound to the eastward through the Sound, especially with light winds and an easterly current, should make use of the lead and not approach its eastern part in less than nine fathoms of water.

GROKGE ELBRIDGE, Hydrographer.

Chatham, Mass., June 14, 1870.

The topmasts of the wreck of the schooner which lies SW y S, off Frying Pan Lightship, are broken, and the stumps of the masts are within 10 feet of the surface of the water. sariners are cautioned not to come within one mile of the moy marking the wreck. The said wreck bears SW by W out the buoy.

Information has been received that on the night of March 3, 1876, when 18 miles NK by N of Pondichery, the steamer Patus ran from 10½ isthoms into 6 fathoms of water. Two casts of 6 fathoms were obtained, when the water deepened again to 10 fathoms. The night was fine and clear and land was visible on the port beam shout 3½ miles distant. This patch, not marked on any chart, lies in the following approximate position:—Lat 12 10 N, lon 80 E.

Bearings magnetic. Variation 0 50 easterly in 1876.
